RESIDENT SPOTLIGHT

Dale Johnson moved to Eisenach Village in December 2010. He spent most of his years living in Waverly with his late wife, Sandra, and working as a Junior High English Teacher. Dale retired from teaching in 1994 and was then certified to be a Massage Therapist, which he did for several years. In his free time he participates on the Keep on Learning committee as well as on church committees. He also enjoys movies and having dinner with friends. Dale was a participant in the Aging in a Changing Society class through Wartburg and enjoyed meeting with his Wartburg student on a weekly basis. He enjoys his freedom from home maintenance while living at Eisenach Village.

ASSOCIATE SPOTLIGHT

Carol Brown has been with Bartels for 20 years! Her career began in 1991 as Bartels' receptionist. In 1997 she changed roles and became the Human Resource Assistant and shortly after moved into HR Coordinator; her current position. Carol and her husband, Eugene, have been married 48 years and have two children and two grandchildren. Before her years at Bartels, Carol played bass guitar for a travelling band.

She no longer does this as a hobby, but does enjoy traveling, spending time with her family and playing computer games.

Carol has seen Bartels change drastically over the years and loves what she does here. "There is never a dull moment and I never quit learning. There is something new every day!" she said.

CHAPLAINCY

In the Apostle Paul's First Letter to the Corinthians...and in other letters of Paul...he made reference to the church as the body of Christ. Each member of the church brings Godly gifts unique in purpose and function to the whole as do the various members of the human body. None are of greater significance than other parts. None are inferior to other members of the body. All are needed to share their unique gifts for the good of the ministry of the whole which then makes up the Body of Christ. Granted the Apostle was writing about the Church and the variety of spiritual gifts among its members. But the same holds true for the daily ministry that goes by the name of Bartels Lutheran Retirement Community. This body reports for Godly duty every day. Thanks be to God for all unique gifts shared by so many!!!

EICHHORN HAUS

- Eichhorn Haus men went on an outing to Stan & Doris Feuchtwanger's home in Frederika. They toured Stan's work shop in the lower level of his home as well as farm machinery. All were amazed as they drove the Bartels bus into the shop and unloaded with plenty of room to spare. Doris served Raisin Cream Pie after the tour.
- The resident council provided pizza for social hour in mid-July.
- Residents of Eichhorn Haus assembled kabobs in late July and enjoyed them for the noon meal the next day.
